

Product data — where each sheet field lives

Generated by `scripts/sheet-to-shopify.py --doc` from the mapping the importer runs on, so this table and the code cannot disagree. Source: Hartwick Atelier | Product Copy for Angela & Ivan (5 tabs, 78 expressions across 52 styles).

Definitions the sheet needs that the store does not have yet

Checked against the live store when this document was generated. `--definitions` creates whatever is listed; it is idempotent.

—	nothing: the store has every definition the theme reads (checked live)

What we still need from Angela — counted from the sheet

Blank or “to confirm” cells that the page would show as `[Confirm]` or leave empty. Everything with a source is already mapped; this is the genuine gap, so nobody is asked to supply what exists.
